

REGISTER NOW

“How to Have a Winning Team to Heal a Challenging Child”

Nancy Thomas –Mom, Educator, and author of “Dandelion on my Pillow, Butcher Knife Beneath”

Tuesday, September 20 and Wednesday, September 21, 2011

9am-4:30pm

Laramie County Community College

Centers for Conferences and Institutes

Cheyenne, Wyoming

No Registration Fees –This is a free two-day seminar

Sponsored by CASA of Laramie County

Nancy Thomas, mother, grandmother, adoptive mom and foster mom, has worked as a Therapeutic Parenting Specialist with children who had AD, RAD, PTSD, Aspergers, ritualistic abuse, ADD, ADHD, ODD, Tourette’s Syndrome and Bipolar Disorder. Nancy and her husband Jerry live in the mountains of Colorado in a home centered around healing the hearts of children. She has shared her life and home for over 35 years with severely emotionally disturbed children. She has an 87% success rate with these high-risk children, which is one of the highest in the country. An author and educator specializing in bonding and conscience development, she has trained over 50,000 parents and professionals throughout the world in her effective methods.

“This training is partly funded by the Wyoming Supreme Court Children’s Justice Project with funds provided in accordance with the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993, §13712 of Subchapter C Part 1, Grant No. 0901WYSCIT from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Fami-

Court Appointed Special Advocates
FOR CHILDREN

CASA OF LARAMIE COUNTY

TO REGISTER: Please send your name and contact information to

Laura Schmidt
Ischmidt@casalc.org

or call 638-1151